

Building my brick wall

Who is this resource aimed for?

This is a resource for children that think they are not good at things and other people might be saying unkind things to them.

With the help from a teacher; use these bricks to think about things you feel good about. It might be your teacher or a trusted grown-up can help you think of extra things. Keep on coming back to this wall and drawing more bricks until you reach the person at the top!

